Tenaska Nobles 2 Wind Farm Awards $7,500 in College Scholarships—Three Nobles County High School Seniors Receive Education Funds

Nobles 2 Power Partners, LLC, owner of the Nobles 2 Wind Project (Nobles 2) in Wilmont, has awarded a total of $7,500 in scholarships to three graduating seniors in Nobles County. Each student received a $2,500 scholarship as a part of the Tenaska Scholarship Program.

The Tenaska Scholarship Program aims to recognize hardworking students in the local community and help reduce the financial burden of pursuing higher education. This is the fourth year Nobles 2 is awarding deserving students scholarship support. The money can be used toward two- or four-year post-secondary education programs at accredited institutions.

The 2025 recipients are:

Lauryn Ahlers, graduating from Worthington High School

Reese Henning, graduating from Adrian High School

Zachary Kirchner, graduating from Fulda High School

"I want to congratulate these three exceptional students on their selection as scholarship recipients," said John Beacom, Director of Asset Management at Tenaska. "On behalf of Tenaska and Nobles 2, we're honored to contribute to their college education and wish them success in all their future endeavors."

Tenaska, headquartered in Omaha, Nebraska, is one of the leading independent power producers in the United States and manages scholarship programs in communities where its generating facilities are located. To date, more than $1 million in scholarships have been given out to more than 1,100 students across the country. The Nobles 2 Scholarship Program began in the 2021-2022 school year and has awarded $25,500 in scholarships to 12 students to date.

The Nobles 2 wind farm is supported by an operations team of 14 local employees staffed through NAES Corporation and Vestas. The facility produces 250 megawatts of renewable energy that is sold to Minnesota Power.

Minneapolis, MN (May 30, 2025) – Following the previously announced acquisition of National Grid Renewables by Brookfield Asset Management ("Brookfield") and its institutional partners, the company will move forward and transact business under the brand name, Geronimo Power ("Geronimo").

"We're honored to rebrand the company in a way that celebrates and recognizes the roots we established under the Geronimo brand back in 2007," said Blake Nixon, President and CEO of Geronimo Power. "We're proud to have earned a reputation for putting landowners and communities first, and we'll carry that legacy forward as Geronimo Power, continuing our commitment to deliver reliable, innovative power solutions to meet growing demand in the US."

Since its inception by founder Noel P. Rahn, a rural Minnesota native and landowner, Geronimo Power has become a well-respected business in the renewables industry, known for its dedication to American farmers and rural communities. Geronimo's projects empower landowners with new revenue opportunities, foster sustainable development within local communities, and provide resilient power solutions critical to a future-ready American economy.

Geronimo develops and operates vital electric infrastructure projects that deliver dependable domestic energy, while powering American economies and strengthening local economies. From Minnesota down to Texas, the company successfully operates more than 2 gigawatts (GW) of power generation, with another 1 GW under construction and a development portfolio of more than 20 GW. Collectively, its current operating and construction portfolios are poised to provide approximately $840 million in direct economic benefits for American communities over their operating lives.

As further commitment to its values, Geronimo also initiates charitable funds for each of its owned and operational large-scale projects. The purpose of these funds is to engage with and contribute money to charitable activities and organizations within project host communities. These charitable funds exemplify the company's pledge to be a good neighbor within their project communities and take direction from local community members themselves.

Geronimo Power (formerly National Grid Renewables) develops, owns and operates large-scale power assets throughout America's Heartland, including solar, wind and energy storage. As a farmer-founded and community-focused business, Geronimo Power equips landowners and rural communities with sustainable revenue to ignite local economic growth.
